

Lad, 15, Shot While Trying To Commandeer Big Airliner

CLEVELAND (AP)—Five minutes before takeoff time, 53 passengers buckled themselves into an American Airlines DC6 as it was being prepared to leave the blocks at Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

Then a 280-pound, 15-year-old boy in a leather jacket and denim trousers lumbered up the loading ramp and into the cockpit. Waving a .38-caliber revolver, he ordered Capt. William F. Bonnell to "fly to Mexico or be shot."

The pilot dug into his flight bag and whipped out his own revolver. He fired twice. The youth, Raymond A. Kuchenmeister, Jr., died an hour later at a hospital with bullet wounds in hip and chest.

"What the hell could a guy do?" asked the pilot after he brought the flight to St. Louis where it stopped over briefly en route to Fort Worth and Mexico City.

Bonnell, a Cleveland, said: At first he thought it was a joke. He said, "I asked the flight engineer and copilot if they knew who this fellow was. The fellow said, 'It's none of your damn business.'"

"He had a sawed-off pistol in his hand. I tried to kid him along. He had the gun pointed at my side. While sitting there I dropped my hand down into my bag and pulled out a Colt .38 which I keep there.

"I got the gun out. Then the engineer thought of some reason to turn on the switch and asked the fellow to reach up and turn it on. The fellow did. I shot him in the hip. He still had the gun.

"He sagged a bit. I let him have it again, a little higher."

Most of the passengers aboard the flight, which originated in New York, did not realize what had happened until the boy was removed from the cockpit. The plane left about an hour late.

Standing near the ramp while his brother was shot was 12-year-old Donald, who told police the two boys left their home, a rundown old farmhouse in Parma, to "get jobs as cowboys."

Donald "got scared" as they neared the edge of the field, so "I told him to go ahead and I would hitchhike out later."

The boys' mother, Mrs. Ruth

Kuchenmeister, 42, was alone with her five other children when the news came.

"I never took him seriously," she said. She described the boy as an average student but "frustrated and bitter" because "he was too big to pass for a child and too young to get a man's job."

"He liked to go to Western movies and read about the West in magazines. Lately he kept talking about going to Montana and being a cowboy," she said through tears.

"I told him it wouldn't be like he saw in the movies, but he said: 'Out there they treat you like a man.'"

The gun Raymond carried had been given his father, a truck driver, by a friend some seven years ago, she said. Inspection revealed the gun to be both broken and unloaded.

"I haven't seen it around the house for at least two years and I thought it had been thrown away."

The mother looked around the old farmhouse and said: "Ever since he was 12 he worried about our living conditions. He wanted to work. He wanted to bring in money for me. He talked about buying a house to make it nice for us. He was my favorite child."

Then she asked: "Why did they have to shoot a kid?"

Poison Hinted In Death Case

Montgomery Ward Heir Center of Mystery

CHICAGO (AP)—The possibility that Montgomery Ward Thorne was poisoned confronted a coroner's jury today as it resumed its investigation of the death of the 20-year-old heir to a multimillion-dollar mail order fortune.

Dr. Harry Leon, coroner's pathologist, testifying at yesterday's inquest, said he thinks Thorne may have been poisoned.

Leon read a report to Coroner Walter T. McCarron by Dr. W. J. R. Camp, state toxicologist, showing an "insignificant trace quantity of barbiturate, a trace quantity of alkaloid giving color reactions indicating morphine" were found in the youth's brain.

A combination of enough alcohol such as were found in Thorne's body and more dose could have caused his death, Dr. Leon declared. The alcohol, he said, may have evaporated or been dissipated in the body before the autopsy.

A CONFLICTING picture of Thorne was painted at the inquest centering on these questions:

1. What was the relationship of the dead youth and his mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne?

2. Was Thorne a "drunk" and a "dope addict?"

3. Why was he living in a $75-a-month apartment on Chicago's north side out of touch with his family when found dead?

4. Why did he change his will leaving half his estate to his fiancée Maureen Ragen and one-quarter to her mother nine days before his death?

At one point in the questioning, Mrs. Thorne said: "I was praying for God to send him home."

"He did, but He sent him to his real home. For two years I traveled the road to Calvary, and now I am at the foot of the cross, and it is up to you people to take over."

"Thank God, I know where he is now," she said, nervously fingering a rosary.

Tot, 2½, Starts Series Of Fires

CANTON (AP)—Mrs. Herbert C. Moore told firemen yesterday her 2½-year-old son spilled lighter fluid in an upstairs bedroom, and ignited it, causing a blaze that destroyed two rooms and imperiled himself and five other children.

Mrs. Moore, who was treated for minor burns, said the boy earlier had started three other fires that were quickly stamped out. Damage was estimated at $2,000.

By Wash Fayette

Going to the Fayette County Memorial Hospital as a patient is a serious matter, and it's always nice to see a patient in good spirits out there.

I was caught clear off base Wednesday when I called a well known friend of mine, and he answered his phone with: "Wilson Furnace Service."

It takes a person like Herb Wilson to make light of his ailments and maintain a cheery disposition even from a hospital bed.

Incidentally, he told me that "it's nothing serious" but then no illness could quench Herb's bubbling optimism.

Wild turkeys are returning to Ohio—with the aid of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Used to be that all a hunter had to do was take his trusty muzzle loading rifle, go forth into the heavy timber of Fayette County, and shoot a wild turkey for the family larder.

It was not too difficult to kill a wild turkey during the early days in Fayette County when the big birds were abundant here.

Wild turkeys again are roaming over a very small area in Ohio and several broods have recently been seen in the wilds of Vinton and Athens counties, where they are protected under the propagation program carried out by the state.

Due to the fact that good cover for wild turkeys is limited, it is expected that propagation of the wild turkey generally will be very limited in Ohio.

Ike Indicates No Farm Veto Coming

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower indicated today he would not veto the new farm subsidy program as passed recently by the House.

At his weekly news conference, he described himself as delighted with the House's adoption of the flexible price support principle in the farm bill.

He said that although the bill wasn't exactly what he recommended, he regards its passage as a great and sweeping victory.

The bill provides a flexible scale of price supports for basic crops ranging from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity, replacing the rigid 90 per cent supports of the present law. Eisenhower originally had asked for a flexible system ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, a price calculated by the government as fair to the farmer in relation to the prices of goods he buys.

MEANWHILE, the Senate Agriculture Committee, which already has voted for a year's extension of high, rigid farm price supports, met for further consideration of general farm legislation.

On another subject Eisenhower said prospects now are rosy that Congress will enact a legislative record, based on his proposals, of which any administration could be proud.

The President said he will be proud to go before the country and praise what Congress has done at this session if the record proves to be as good as he expects. On other subjects, he said:

1. He has by no means given up hope Congress will approve statehood for Hawaii at this session, although the issue presents a tricky situation.

The Senate has approved a bill granting statehood to both Hawaii and Alaska. The House has approved a bill giving statehood only to Hawaii. The situation has been deadlocked for weeks.

2. A strike at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky., atomic plants could be a serious thing and would put the United States in a most embarrassing and difficult position. He said, however, he has great hope the strikers will go back to work as a result of his action last night setting up an emergency fact finding board.

3. He doesn't know that he has promised to get anybody out of any federal post.

This was the response when a newsman asked Eisenhower whether he had promised to make a new appointment of an Interstate Commerce Commission chairman once he succeeds in removing the present chairman, J. Monroe Johnson.

4. He still expects the record of Congress, rather than such issues as communism in government, to be the great issue before the voter in November.

5. Naturally, he wants support for his program in Congress and those who support it find an easy pathway to his heart. This was in answer to a question if he favored holding back Republican party backing from legislators who have not backed his program—a question the President did not answer directly.

Adams County Woman Held In Death Case

WEST UNION (AP)—Mrs. Dora Litter, 50, sat in a cell today in the Adams County jail here intermittently sleeping, praying and singing psalms.

She was held without charge in connection with the death of her daughter-in-law, Edith Litter, 21, whose body was found Monday some six weeks after death.

Coroner E. T. Gibboney said the body was badly decomposed but showed no signs of head injuries or physical violence.

Vernon Young, county prosecutor, said an autopsy indicated the young woman died about six weeks ago of "apparently natural causes brought on by malnutrition." He said a charge of failure to report a death may be made.

Sheriff Eugene Fulton said the elder Mrs. Litter was "a religious fanatic" who sometimes held revival services in the county jail.

"She believes in fasting for days," he said.

Her farm home near Cedar Mills, about 10 miles east of West Union, contains many religious slogans, inside and outside. The daughter-in-law's body was found in the bedroom of the house by her brother-in-law, Kenneth Vogeler.

The mother-in-law was not at home when officers found the body. She said she had been in a revival meeting in Kentucky.

Asked why she did not report the death, Fulton said she replied: "I reported to the Lord. That's all that's necessary."

Later she said, "No one ever dies."

Mrs. Litter's son, Robert, 27, was arrested in May on a charge of deserting from the U. S. Navy, police said. He too was interested in the religious sect, which Mrs. Litter described as nondenominational.

Bell Telephone Hearing Recessed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Cross examination of company officials for Ohio Bell Telephone Co. finished yesterday in a state utilities commission hearing to determine whether the company should get a requested $8,913,000 annual rate increase. The hearing resumes July 26.

Cities protesting the proposed increase attacked the company's method of figuring depreciation of its property.

When the hearing resumes, the cities will present evidence they claim shows the company not only should be denied the increase but can cut present rates by 12 million dollars a year.

HILLSBORO — Philip Partridge, Highland County engineer, last night admitted setting fire to Lincoln elementary school for Negroes here.

He told Police Chief Walter Refitt he set fire to the building last Monday, causing approximately $5,000 damage.

Charged with arson by Prosecutor Richard L. Davis, the man appeared in a justice of the peace court and pleaded guilty. He was bound over to the grand jury and released on $2,000 bond.

Partridge was said to be active in work to bring about the advancement of the Negro race.

Columbus Police Chief Arrested

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—As soon as Police Chief George W. Scholer reported back to work yesterday, after sick leave, he was arrested. The charge was failure to yield right of way during a two-car collision here June 14.

Policeman Gerald H. Malone, 29, the driver of the other car, received a fractured skull. The car crashed as both men were returning home from their day's police duties.

No Clues to Murder Mystery Yet

Dr. Samuel Sheppard Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard

AUTHORITIES of Bay Village, O., Cleveland suburb, are attempting to unravel clues in the bloody bludgeoning murder of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, 31, whose pajama-clad body was found by her husband, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, 30, member of a family of physicians who operate a suburban hospital. After finding the body, Dr. Sheppard said he was beaten by an assailant he said was about 6-feet-3. Dr. Sheppard is suffering shock and injuries.

CLEVELAND (AP)—His beaten neck braced by a metal and leather support, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard hoped today to attend the funeral of his wife, Marilyn, 31. Three days after her pretty face was hacked viciously by a killer, police still lacked clues in the crime.

After the private funeral, Deputy Sheriff Carl Rossbach will try to question the 30-year-old osteopathic neurosurgeon who thus far has been able to give only a vague, sometimes incoherent account.

The police must depend heavily on the doctor's help for clues to the slayer who beat his victim mercilessly in her bed at the Sheppards' big home in suburban Bay Village along Lake Erie.

Rossbach said none of the neighbors he interviewed reported seeing or hearing anything suspicious at the house last Sunday morning in the period from a half-hour after midnight until a half-hour before sunrise. The Sheppards had neighbors visiting until after midnight, and dawn was beginning to break when friends answered the doctor's desperate call for help.

The deputy sheriff said he intended also to question the Sheppards' 7-year-old son, Sam Jr., today. The boy slept in a room adjacent to the bedroom while the killer rained 25 blows on the head of his mother. She apparently threw up her arms and hands to cover her face, for one wrist was lacerated and one little finger broken. Skull fractures caused her death, the coroner said.

This Back-Seat Romance Unusual

STRASBURG, Va. (AP)—State Trooper William Berry doesn't frown on back-seat romancers in automobiles, as a general rule. But he sometimes makes an exception.

Like yesterday, for instance. Berry arrested the drivers of two cars on reckless driving charges when he saw a girl on the rear seat of one of the cars embracing a fellow on the back seat of the other. The cars were moving side by side at about 40 m.p.h.

Due for trial justice court hearings July 16 are drivers Allen C. Hill of Norristown, Pa., and Mrs. Catherine Black of Alexandria, Va.

Berry didn't place any charges against the lovebirds, whom he wouldn't identify.

CIA, Dulles Given Ike's Full Backing

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today voiced complete confidence in the integrity, loyalty and efficiency of Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, and said the agency is under constant examination by the executive branch to see it does its work with honesty and decency.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has said the CIA is dangerously infiltrated with Communists and has been under preliminary investigation by the McCarthy Investigations Subcommittee.

McCarthy last night said he has offered to turn over his information to a subcommittee of the Hoover Commission, now studying reorganization of the executive department of government.

Eisenhower made his comment about the CIA and Dulles when a reporter said one Capitol Hill view is that CIA may have been infiltrated by Communists and asked for the President's ideas on that.

EISENHOWER said he also has great confidence in Gen. Mark W. Clark, head of the Hoover Commission task force which will study the CIA.

On his return yesterday from an 18-day vacation, McCarthy said "I would be glad" to supply his information about the super-secret espionage agency to a Hoover commission "task force" headed by Clark.

He insisted this was not an announcement that his Senate investigations subcommittee was dropping plans he had announced previously for a probe of CIA. "We are not going to forget about the situation," he said.

He added, however, that "we never conduct a parallel investigation" in a field being investigated by persons he trusts. He said he has confidence in Clark, former Far East commander who is now president of The Citadel, a military college at Charleston, S. C.

Former President Hoover announced Sunday that Clark would head a study of CIA's setup for his commission. The group, a successor to the Hoover Reorganization Commission of several years ago, is charged primarily with seeking ways to improve efficiency and cut government costs.

McCarthy, during the hearings into his dispute with Army officials, said Red infiltration of the CIA was one of the worst situations.

Girl, 7, Kidnaped, Killed In Fashionable Miami Area

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Judith Ann Roberts, 7-year-old daughter of a Baltimore attorney, was kidnaped from the home of her grandparents today and brutally murdered.

Police found the nude and savagely battered body of the little girl in a wooded area just off fashionable Bayside Drive on the shore of Biscayne Bay.

She had been reported missing some five hours before by her mother, Mrs. Shirley Roberts. She disappeared from the home of Mrs. Roberts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rosenberg.

The child's absence was discovered at 1:10 a. m. when Mrs. Rosenberg was awakened by the sound of a car roaring away from her home. Police on a routine patrol found the car at 5:20 a. m. A score of officers fanned out from the abandoned car and one of them found Judith Ann's body at 6:15 a. m. in a clump of bushes a block from the car.

SHE HAD BEEN beaten on the head, apparently with a heavy instrument. Her body was caked with blood and dirt, indicating she had

President Takes Issue With GOP Leader On Automatic Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he is completely and unalterably opposed to letting Red China into the United Nations under present conditions. But he said he is not ready to say this country should withdraw from the U. N. if the Reds are admitted.

Eisenhower thus took issue with Republican Senate leader Knowland of California and some other lawmakers who are urging United States withdrawal from the U. N. if the Peiping government is admitted.

Knowland had said earlier he hopes Eisenhower will promise to recall Congress to deal with the situation if the United Nations should admit Communist China this fall. But such a promise was not indicated today.

Knowland hinted that such a pledge might forestall moves in Congress to provide in advance for automatic American withdrawal from the U. N. if the Peiping regime is admitted.

Congress is planning to wind up its present business July 31.

THE RED CHINA issue could come before the U. N. in September or later in the year, perhaps during the campaign for control of Congress at the November elections. The new Congress is scheduled to convene in January.

Knowland has said he would resign his party leadership post to campaign for American withdrawal if the U. N. accepts the Communists. But opposition appeared to be developing among some other lawmakers against committing Congress in advance to becoming a prospective "executioner" for the world organization.

Several senators have also said it would be unwise to tie American policy in advance to a contingency that may never arise.

Secretary of State Dulles has pledged a vigorous fight against seating of the Chinese Communist regime in the U. N. But he has declined to commit the administration in advance to quitting the U. N. if American objections are overridden.

Knowland predicted Congress will write into pending foreign aid legislation a strong statement opposing Communist China's entry into the international organization.

He said this might take the form of a policy statement, rather than any automatic withdrawal of funds and representatives such as he previously had said were under study. Such a policy statement was voted by Congress last year.

"I DON'T think there is any doubt that Congress will express itself forcefully against letting the Chinese Communists shoot their way into the United Nations," Knowland said. "What other action it takes I think will depend on reports we are getting from the State Department."

"But if the President makes it clear he intends to call Congress back, or at least call the leaders into consultation so that early congressional action can be planned, it might not be necessary to go further at this time. I hope such a statement will be forthcoming from the administration soon."

Hog Association Plans Two Shows

One for Juniors
Other Commercial

Directors of the Fayette County Swine Breeders and Feeders Association met Tuesday evening at the Farm Bureau auditorium for their regular monthly session and made plans for two big events.

Full details were worked out for the Junior Pig Show to be held at the Fair, Charles Andrews, vice president, will be junior swine superintendent, and he will be assisted by the following junior leaders: Bill McFadden, Mike Cunningham, Gene Gustin and Bob Montgomery and assistant superintendents Joseph Fisher and Mrs. Charles Andrews.

Interest in the junior swine show and exhibits is expected to break all records. There are approximately 55 4-H pig club members and 24 vocational agriculture swine members.

Plans have been made for weighing all the pigs on Tuesday.

MOST OF THE preliminary work for the holding of the fifth Market Hog Show, Friday, Aug. 20, at the Union Stockyards was completed. Entry blanks will be available in the next couple of weeks. Judges were selected and much of the program completed.

This has grown to be quite an unusual event and attraction for the commercial hog producers of the county.

Three members of the Ohio State University swine department met with the directors and outlined the new swine evaluation program in connection with the Ohio Swine Improvement Association.

These men were W. H. Bruner, supervisor of marketing and swine evaluation; Herbert Barnes, swine specialist, and Charles Calhoun, assistant swine specialist, who will be directly in charge of the physical work of feeding and caring for the hogs at the new evaluation barn at the university.

Also at the meeting was Robert Owens, member of the Fair Board, and chairman of the state swine evaluation committee. C. R. Rhoad, secretary of the association, is also a member of this committee.

Fayette County is planning to take an important part in the overall promotion of the swine member program of the state since August farrowed litters will be eligible to go in the new feeding station.

Child Is Injured When Hit by Truck

Jeffrey Matson, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Matson of near Octa, is in a serious condition in Children's Hospital in Columbus from injuries received when knocked down by a truck in the barnyard at the Matson farm home Tuesday afternoon.

Details of the accident are still somewhat vague. However, indications are that Jeffrey was standing behind the parked truck and was hit when the driver, not knowing he was anywhere around, started to move it.

There was nothing to indicate, it was said, that the child had been actually run over by the truck wheels, but he is believed to have been hurled forcibly to the ground by the impact. Most serious injury was believed to be that to his head.

He was rushed to the hospital after emergency treatment at Dr. Hugh Payton's office in Jeffersonville. He was taken in Dr. Payton's car by Alvin G. Little, whose ambulance was not immediately available. He was accompanied by his mother and another woman. Little said oxygen was administered en route.

X-rays were taken at the hospital but the extent of his injuries have not yet been definitely determined.

PENANCE

There was a time
When God was nigh
And angels watched my sleep;
There was a time
When hope ran high
And faith was calm and deep.

But now, the harsh
Ascent of years,
Has dulled my youthful zest
And I am servile
To the fears
That riot in my breast.

Grant me, dear Lord,

Restore to me
The childish faith

Three new members, Dwight Dunkle, William McFadden Jr. and Dave Lucas, were greeted and given their organization obligations.

Mrs. Alma Rothrock, chairman, reported satisfactory progress being made by the committee in charge of the County Fair booth.

Routine reports and communications were read by the secretary, Mrs. Cecil Dixon, and action was taken in the usual manner. The new folding chairs ordered for the Grange Hall were presented and placed.

Mrs. Charles Morgan conducted the Lecturer's hour and members responded to the roll call question "Where would you like to go on your vacation?"

Refreshments were served by the special committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Baird, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bonnell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bonecutter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Craig and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hilly.

The refreshment committee named for the August meeting consists of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Garringer, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Day, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kellenberger and Mr. and Mrs. Manfred LeMaster.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sen. McCarthy, with time for meditation on his 18-day vacation, seems to have decided to back away from the Central Intelligence Agency, the American superspy agency.

He knows, if he didn't, he'd have to knock heads with President Eisenhower, a contest in which he might not win and for which he may not feel himself ready yet.

Besides, coming on the eve of the congressional elections in November, a fight between McCarthy and the White House could hardly do the Republicans any good.

If the Wisconsin senator had tried to hold public hearings on the CIA, which he has charged was infiltrated with Communists, the President is almost certain to have refused to let any CIA employees testify.

A public exploration into CIA would be more than the Russians had any right to hope for. CIA's operations are so secret the money it gets is concealed, even from all but a handful of the members of Congress who have to vote for it.

McCarthy, never a man to use up all his energy on one fight at a time, said during the hearings on his dispute with Army officials that Communists had crawled into the CIA. It wasn't the first time he mentioned something like that.

In fact, he said his staff had been investigating CIA since last October, CIA Director Allen Dulles called McCarthy's charges false and said he had asked McCarthy last October for any information he had on CIA but never got an answer.

On July 4, Independence Day, former President Hoover announced he had named retired Gen. Mark Clark to head a "task force" to study CIA's structure and administration.

Hoover heads a commission which Eisenhower appointed months ago to study government operations in general. Its primary job is to suggest ways to improve efficiency and cut costs. Because of the way the commission does its work—with few public hearings—Clark's job would be carried out quietly.

It is possible the administration thought it could head off McCarthy by having Hoover's commission examine CIA, if not for Communists at least for efficiency. Clark, asked about this, said he saw "no connection."

Shortly after McCarthy returned to the capital yesterday he talked on TV and to reporters about the CIA. It was a very careful piece of talking.

He said he would turn over to the Hoover Commission the information on which he based his charge of Communist infiltration of CIA. This might seem to indicate he was going to let the Hoover Commission handle the CIA by itself.

But — McCarthy didn't say so flatly. This gives him room for maneuver in case he wants to maneuver.

The CIA is so secret it's impossible to guess all it's up to. But it's probably trying to cause all the trouble it can for the Communists overseas. The public may never know whether it had a hand in the riots of the East Germans against the Communist masters last summer or in the recent revolt of Guatemalans against their Red-tinged government.

It may be a safe bet that CIA agents around the world were mixed up in the past year's desertions to the West of Russian agents.

The CIA is the American government's cloak-and-dagger operation, set up by Congress in 1947 when it had become clear at last this country's real relationship with Russia would be at best a cold war lasting perhaps for generations.

The idea that there might be some Communist infiltration of CIA is not new. As long ago as the fall of 1952 retired Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, now under secretary of state but then CIA director, said he felt "morally certain" Communists had "infiltrated practically every security agency of the government," including CIA.

He said he didn't know of any in the CIA, had tried to find any who might have got in, but just thought that since they were "clever" you'd have to assume some got in.

Baldwin Rice Speaks Before Rotarians Here

Gives Explanation of Columbus Production Credit Association

Baldwin Rice, representative for Fayette County of the Columbus Production Credit Association, delivered a very informative talk to Rotarians and guests Tuesday on the workings of this organization which deals in financial aid to farmers exclusively.

He was introduced by Dr. Fred D. Woodard of the July program committee, who said that since some of the most interesting speakers which the club had heard on programs, were local men talking about local business, for that reason he had heard so much about the organization which Baldwin Rice represented that he thought others in the club would be equally interested.

RICE DECLARED that the association he represented was an outgrowth of the period many years ago when the financing of farmers for their agricultural operations was found to be necessary on a somewhat different basis due to the changeover from mostly family operation, to larger production methods, mechanization and the requirement for a different type of credit for commercial operations.

He made it clear that he was happy to talk about this business because very few people understood how and why this type of organization worked.

The association which Rice represents has headquarters in Columbus and operates in eight central Ohio counties. It has about 200 stockholders in Fayette County and since the association's organization in 1933 has shown steady and rather remarkable growth. In the last three years in Fayette County alone the association's loans have totaled more than a million dollars per year, Rice stated. He has been with the organization since 1944 and maintains an office in this city.

THE SPEAKER explained that the association in these eight central Ohio counties was the largest of that type of organization east of the Mississippi River. Some associations in the west where huge cattle deals are made, run to a much greater volume.

This association pays taxes the same as any other business organization, Rice declared, and means much to localities like Fayette County because it brings money from the big cities of the nation into these counties for circulation. It does not get its money from the government and the borrowers are the stockholders. It operates specifically for the convenience of farmers.

He stated that the association, even though it did not always demand collateral but based its credit arrangements on financial statements and to some extent on men's reputations, had suffered very little losses, less than one-fourth of one percent. It was not in business, Rice declared, primarily for profit, although it necessarily had to make its expenses and try to pay some dividends. Money is loaned for 12 month periods with a contract that stipulated amount must be paid within that time with the right to renew a note for the balance due, with a guarantee of yearly payments by the borrower. It does not make real estate loans.

FOLLOWING HIS talk Rice indicated a willingness to answer questions and several of the men present showed an interest in his story by putting queries which called forth further explanation of methods which the association followed.

President, George Finley, conducting his first meeting as the club's new president, thanked Rice for bringing his interesting discussion before the club.

W. W. Montgomery called the club members' attention to the date of Thursday, July 15, when

Clark Cleared By Probers, But Criticized For Silence

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A House judiciary subcommittee, in a disputed report, criticized Justice Tom C. Clark today for declining to testify after he joined the Supreme Court but said it had turned up no proof of wrongdoing by Clark while he was attorney general.

The document drew immediate fire from Rep. Byron G. Rogers (D-Colo.), one of the five subcommittee members, who said Chairman Keating (R-N.Y.) pulled a "sneak play" by his "unwarranted political release of his proposed libelous report."

Rogers defended Clark, an appointee of former President Truman, and said most of the report had not been approved in subcommittee or even considered by the parent judiciary group.

The report, dealing with the subcommittee's inquiry last year into operations of the Justice Department, said the investigators were "troubled" because some controversial actions were traced back to Clark who was attorney general in 1945-49 before going to the Supreme Court.

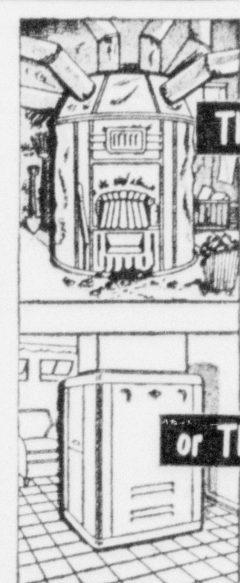

KEATING SAID in an accompanying statement that Clark's failure to testify was "unfortunate" because "we were deprived of the benefit of any light which might have been shed by a former member of the Herders Association of Ohio, meets at the Mossbarger farm at the edge of Bloomingburg for a beef barbecue dinner and a good program.

Colin Campbell paid a high tribute to James Maddox of Columbus, a former Rotary governor for this district, who died a few days ago. He stated that Maddox had visited the Washington Club many times and never failed to inquire about the club here whenever he contacted a local member.

Club members sang birthday greetings for Arthur Finley and Dr. E. H. McDonald and the Rotary youth fund was made a little larger as a result.

Visiting Rotarians at this meeting were Edward Milson of Lancaster and Rev. Ray Vandegriff of Greenfield.

VACATION
I dream, read about beauty places—
The mountains, lakes, sea shore and cities fair,
Some of them I visited in past years;
There are wondrous beauty spots everywhere;
In memory I live again the beauty Of all the many places I have been;
Forgetting things that were not so pleasant—
Heat, long rides and walks and the city's din;
I still can read, dream about far places,
But will vacation right here in my home;
Do no work, read, write and go out for meals—
That I will like better than in far places—room

Plane Crackup Uses Up Film

TULSA, Okla. —The Tulsa World didn't get a picture of a Fourth of July traffic jam Monday—it got a picture of a plane crash instead.

The World said it sent commercial photographer Howard Hopkins aloft to get a picture of a traffic jam. The plane ran out of gas and it crash-landed at the intersection of U.S. 66 and State Highway 33.

Hopkins and the pilot both walked away from the crash unhurt. The big traffic jam the photographer had been looking for all day formed around the crashed plane.

But Hopkins found, to his horror, he had used his last film taking pictures of the crash.

Labor Aide Raps U. N. Withdrawal

CLEVELAND, D. C.—A Labor Department official says it would be "repugnant to the ideals for which we stand" for America to quit the International Labor Organization because Russians were admitted to membership.

Highway Situation In Ohio Demanding Attention

The highway situation in Ohio is coming in for more and more attention of which a large part is of a critical nature. This state has more than 7,000 miles of federal-aid highways which are below standard condition, according to a study made by the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Here in Fayette County, we are reasonably proud of our highways, but we doubt if our state and federal highways here are getting the attention they deserve in the way of planning improvements to meet the rapidly increasing traffic demands.

Our Fayette County roads are getting more improvements than state and federal lines of communication, which is something for which this county should be thankful.

It is estimated that funds in excess of $1.7 billion would have to be invested in the existing cross-state system of state and federal roads, just to meet the minimal needs of Ohio's constantly swelling traffic; additional millions would be required to maintain the enlarged network and to underwrite future expansion.

There isn't enough cash available to Ohio's highway department, or from Washington, D. C., to pay for a massive highway development program. However, there is a way of adding to the state's transportation resources without draining public treasuries. In fact, the governors of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky concluded recently after a one-day conference in Cincinnati, the only feasible way to "keep abreast of demands of safe highway travel" is to authorize construction of privately-financed toll roads.

The governors discussed proposals for weaving a toll-road web across the whole tri-state region, connecting nearly every important city within a triangle stretching from Chicago to Conneaut to Louisville.

Hundreds of cities and farming communities would be involved in such an undertaking. Each would benefit from the vastly improved inter-city transportation facilities. But each might have to revise plans for industrial, residential and agricultural development.

For this reason, each deserves plenty of advanced warning that a four-lane highway is to be unrolled in its vicinity, and an opportunity to have its particular problems aired before turnpike engineering authorities.

Wheat Referendum

Secretary of Agriculture Benson recently ordered a 12 per cent reduction in 1955 wheat acreage allotments, and set July 23rd as the date for holding a referendum on marketing quotas by wheat growers. Unless two-thirds of the wheat growers voting approve 1955 marketing quotas, government price supports on wheat for those keeping within acreage allotments will drop to 50 per cent of parity, and non-cooperating farmers will become ineligible for any price support loans on wheat.

Benson also ordered a new "cross compliance" arrangement, effective on 1955 crops, which will require farmers to comply with all acreage allotments on all the crops raised in order to be eligible for price supports on any one crop. Benson's 1955 wheat order will affect about two million growers, and will take ten million acres out of wheat production, leaving 55 million acres available for planting.

The Department of Agriculture estimates the carry-over of old wheat on July 1st will be one billion bushels—approximately 79 per cent above normal.

Did You Enjoy Return To Daily Rut? By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The big problem for millions of Americans this week was: "How can I go back to the daily rut?"

Some, worn out by the long holiday weekend, were overwhelmingly anxious to return as quickly as possible to the security and order of their job in factory or office.

Freedom is a great thing, but it has meant to them nothing in the last three days but traffic jams, indigestion, sunburn, crying children and mosquito bites. The only place they would like to go, other than to the office, is to a restful hospital on a quiet street.

Others, however, have been spoiled by the ecstatic freedom that went with the 178th anniversary of American independence. They hate the idea of returning to responsibility and yearn to run barefoot and kneedeep in liberty until the snow flies.

No matter what your attitude toward getting back into harness may be, you will find some consolation or grounds for self pity in the following literary ascriptions for your holiday-wounded mind:

"It is not good to have too much liberty. It is not good to have all one wants"—Blaise Pascal.

"I tell you, liberty is the best of all things; never live beneath the noose of a servile halter"—Sir William Wallace.

"Every vat must stand upon his own bottom"—John Bunyan.

"Every man for himself, and God for us all"—Cervantes.

"Liberty in the lowest rank of every nation is little more than the choice of working or starving"—Samuel Johnson.

"If all the year was playing holidays, to sport would be as tedious as to work"—Shakespeare.

National Safety In Minerals

By George Sokolsky

Senator George Malone of Nevada is the only professional engineer in the United States Senate and therefore he brings into that body a point of view which is very different from that of the lawyer. An engineer is trained to defend a thesis or to advocate a cause.

The problem that faces Malone's committee is: precisely what is the situation of the United States with regard to minerals, metals and other strategic materials. This committee has produced a tremendous volume of technical data, difficult to read at times but all of it extremely important. The assumption has heretofore been that the United States was short of certain strategic materials which could only be made available by overseas commerce which could be shut down swiftly in the event of war. For instance, tin and rubber from Malaya might be withheld from us should Red China come into possession of that country.

According to the Malone report, 77 minerals and materials, included in this report, are vital to the maintenance of the American economy and its prowess as a military force. It lays down this finding absolutely:

"The western hemisphere will be the only dependable source of the critical raw materials in the event of an all-out war."

"The delivery of any such critical materials to this nation across a major ocean during such a conflict will be highly 'problematical.'"

This position is unquestionable.

in the nature of modern warfare. The oceans can be closed down until one power or the other gains a total victory. The schnorkel submarine, the atomic submarine and the long-distance airplane make the ocean lanes of traffic unsuitable in war. The Pacific Ocean was made unsafe for the transportation of supplies of rubber and tin during World War II, with the result that the United States was forced to develop a synthetic rubber industry based on the Baruch Report. It will be forgotten, of course, how Fiorello La Guardia desperately collected tin cans in the hope of meeting the tin crisis, cans which eventually helped to fill the Jersey meadows.

The hope of meeting future crisis is in a hemispheric cultivation of mineral production and the means for the transportation of minerals and their products without the perils of the seas. The "Europe First" attitude of the State Department resulted not only in the loss of China but also in the partial abandonment of the Latin America countries. This committee lays emphasis on the importance of regarding the western hemisphere and cultivating its economy as a unit. It says:

"It is imperative to the security of this nation and to the nations of the western hemisphere that they foster the greatest measure of self-sufficiency in the production of the critical materials."

"It is vital to our domestic welfare, economy and security that maximum economic production be maintained within our borders."

"The western hemisphere can be defended."
"The western hemisphere can be made self-sufficient in the production of the critical materials which are essential in war and in peace."

In time of war, there will be no alternative to self-sufficiency. Once the oceans are closed down to commerce, we shall have to exist on what we have within our own boundaries or what we have stockpiled or what we can bring to our smelters and mills from within the western hemisphere.

sphere. Much of our thinking on this subject has been based on the assumption that many strategic minerals and materials were available only in Europe, Asia or Africa.

"It is like that famous speech on 'Acres of Diamonds'. We seek all over the world for what can be found in our back-yard. The committee found:

"During the last two decades established procurement practices have dangerously increased our dependence upon nations across major oceans for many of such critical materials. We must avoid dependence upon an overseas supplier to the extent that he could suddenly render us impotent by withdrawing supplies of critical materials during a world conflict, or could use such dependence as a political or economic bargaining lever."

The supply of minerals and essential materials is the first task of war preparedness in this age.

East Pakistan Outlaws Commies

Dacca, East Pakistan (AP)—East Pakistan's new military government has outlawed the Communist party as a danger to public peace. The Reds, who supported the regime of ousted Chief Minister Abdul Kasem Fazlul Huq, were accused of inciting riots in April in which more than 500 persons were killed.

Maj. Gen. Iskander Mirza, the state's new governor, signed an order declaring the party and all its branches illegal in East Pakistan.

Following the April riots and statements by Fazlul Huq demanding provincial autonomy for east Pakistan, Governor General Ghulam Mohammed fired the chief minister and his government.

Diet and Health Different Causes For Rectal Bleeding

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Too many people think that bleeding from the rectum always means pile or hemorrhoids. They therefore ignore the situation until it causes so much discomfort that they finally must seek help from their physician.

Causes Vary Widely

The causes for bleeding from the rectum are innumerable, and may vary from hemorrhoids to blood disorders, poisoning, irritation from foreign bodies, dysentery or diverticulitis. Cancer of the rectum or large intestine is also one of the causes of bleeding.

However, hemorrhoids still remain the most common reason for rectal bleeding.

Potentials of Polyps

Polyps, which are glandular accumulations which may at some time go on to cancerous growth if neglected, may also be a cause. Polyps are even considered a low grade form of cancer by some people.

Rectal bleeding calls for a physical examination. This examination should include more than the rectum, however.

Nowadays, in order to pick up cancers that may be curable, the physician goes through extensive tests. He may not only do a rectal examination but he may take X-rays of the large intestine. This is done by giving the person an enema with a special dye called barium that shows up on X-ray.

Medical Detective Work

Also, the rectal area should be examined with a special instrument known as a proctoscope, which enables the physician to examine what cannot be readily seen on X-ray examination.

Many cancers are detected in a physician's office by the physician simply feeling for a tumor or growth. Alert attention to a little bleeding from the rectum rather than the quick assumption that it is just piles, will save many persons from a cancer death.

Ike Shows Economic Restraint

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — An underlying but generally overlooked source of current business confidence and stability results from the Administration's insistence that private interests solve their own problems instead of urging them to "let Washington do it." It marks a sharp and basic contrast with New Deal-Fair Deal methods of the last twenty years.

Numerous top executives and federal officials have commented on this aspect of the Eisenhower system—its restraint, its caution, its belief in individual and collective initiative rather than government intervention and control. It reflects and represents Eisenhower's promised effort to reverse the totalitarian trend of the Roosevelt-Truman regime.

MIDDLE—The President himself has emphasized the importance of this change at White House conferences and at his monthly stag dinners with industrial, financial and business bigwigs. It is his soft answer to ultra-conservative Republicans, who complain that he preserves too many of his predecessors' social and economic reforms.

His middle way may not be sensational or startling, Ike admits, but he thinks it is getting practical and pay-off results.

It may explain, in his opinion, why the stock market stays at peak levels, despite wars and threats of wars. It may account for volume purchases on credit by millions of customers. No other reason, he thinks, underlies the willingness of basic industries to float new issues of stocks and bonds to finance vast expansion of their plants.

CONSENSUS—Moreover, it is the consensus of the President's private and public consultants that these conditions will persist through the 1954-1955 fiscal year that began only a week ago. That would be President Eisenhower's conclusion, if he were to make an economic report to the nation today.

As Ike says, "Operation Restraint" does not make black headlines. But here are a few examples of its effects:

Only a few months ago, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. was threatening to start anti-trust suits against the three great automobile companies—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—on the ground that they monopolized the retail market. He planned action against them, even though he conceded that they had achieved this sales leadership without resort to "unfair trade practices."

ALARM—Both the major and minor automobile manufacturers were alarmed by this warning, as was every other great and expanding industry. Although they questioned the legality of Brownell's attitude, none wanted a test of this novel application of the anti-trust laws. It could have disastrous effects on the nation's integrated economy.

An immediate and partial result of Brownell's ultimatum was the formation of mergers by the smaller firms, so as to be in a stronger position to compete with the "Big Three." They hope to regain at least 30 per cent of the retail market in contrast with their present 18 or 15 per cent. If successful, they will have done so without Federal suits, controls or other forms of economic regimentation. And Brownell seems to be satisfied.

RESISTANCE—When the economic slump began to create unemployment and hardship, Administration critics demanded radical, corrective action. Such liberals as Sen. Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. of New York and Walter Reuther, CIO president, advocated vast and costly federal programs of a semi-boondoggling nature.

Secretary George M. Humphrey refused to get upset. He simply reversed his earlier policy of "hard money," lowering interest rates and the reserve requirements of Federal Reserve banks. He resorted to the normal credit machinery rather than to political action.

In many other fields—taxes, economy, farm subsidies, labor policies—the Administration has resisted Republican and Democratic clamors that it return to the good old days of "tax and tax, spend and spend, regiment and regiment."

Dodgers Face Problem In Giants Series

Brooklyn's Quest For Pennant Doesn't Hinge On Games — But

By The Associated Press
One series, any major league manager will tell you, does not make a season, so why get so excited about the current set between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers?

But going into tonight's second game of the three-game series, the Giants were 4½ games in front of the Brooks and if they go on to sweep the series, Walter Alston and his team will be up against a mighty tough problem in their quest for a third straight pennant.

Consider the Brooks' plight: 1. The pitching has been wobbly and, worse, only Bob Milliken among the relievers has been effective.

2. Their pinch hitters have been futile. In last night's 5-2 setback by the Giants, they loaded the bases with none out in the ninth only to have George Shuba and Rube Walker, two pinch hitters, go down ignominiously.

3. They can't seem to shake the injury jinx. Pee Wee Reese, Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson among the first-liners have been having miseries.

The Giants, on the other hand, are sitting pretty. They have confidence. They've had fantastic good fortune with pinch hitters. When they're behind, they don't worry. With relief pitchers like Hoyt Wilhelm and Mark Grissom, who took over for Sal Maglie against the Brooks last night in the ninth with none out and three men on base and got away unscathed, they have two firemen they can trust.

Al Dark, Willie Mays and Monte Irvin hit home runs last night, accounting for four of the Giants' runs. Starter Preacher Roe was the victim of two and Bob Milliken, one, Maglie weathered a two-run first inning, then settled down until he ran into trouble again in the ninth and required the services of Grissom to pull it out.

Two other National League games produced shutouts. Gerry Staley blanked the Cincinnati Redlegs for the St. Louis Cardinals 6-0, and Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies whitewashed the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0. In the other National League encounter, the Milwaukee Braves bombed the Chicago Cubs 14-3.

The Cleveland Indians held their 3½-game lead over the New York Yankees in the American League. The Tribe plastered the Baltimore Orioles 11-3 and the Yanks turned back the Boston Red Sox 4-1.

Virgil Trucks, the veteran right-hander of the Chicago White Sox, pitched his second one-hitter of the season as his injury-riddled mates whipped the Detroit Tigers 4-0. Johnny Schmitz of the Washington Senators also was stingy with the base hits, allowing the Philadelphia A's only half a dozen as the Nats hung a 5-2 defeat on Eddie Joost's men.

Staley was tapped for nine hits by the Redlegs, but kept them well-scattered. The Cards made only seven, but they were aided by three Cincinnati errors.

Simmons, who has had indifferent success during the first half of the season, was hit hard, but had good support to win No. 8 against six losses.

The in-and-out Braves scored 11 runs in the first three innings in handing the Cubs their fourth straight licking. Gene Conley had no trouble coasting to his seventh straight victory.

The Indians scored all 11 of their runs against the Orioles in the first inning to make Early Wynn's task easy.

Frank Sullivan, the 6-foot-7 Red Sox rookie right-hander, hurled creditably until the eighth when the Yanks scored twice. Their first two runs were the result of homers by Joe Collins and Andy Carey. Whitey Ford got the triumph.

Trucks' one-hitter was his 11th victory, but his club is six games off the pace and with its rash of injuries — 19 members of the team have been forced from the lineup this season — is beginning to show the wear and tear of the grind.

Only Harvey Kuenn's single in the third inning kept Trucks from recording the third no-hitter of his career.

Eddie Yost and Mickey Vernon each got three hits in Washington's assault on the assorted offerings of Bob Trice and Al Sima.

Runnersup In AA Tighten Standings

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—American Association standings looked slightly more respectable today as the three teams in closest contention recorded victories while league leading Indianapolis lost.

The Indians bowed to Minneapolis, a second division club, 4-1.

In other games St. Paul, the runner-up team, walloped Kansas City, 15-4, Louisville edged Charleston, 4-3, and Columbus racked Toledo, 9-2.

Thus St. Paul climbed to within 8½ games of the Indians, Louisville to within 12½ and Columbus to within 13.

First baseman Tom Alston of the St. Louis Cardinals is a graduate of the Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina. He has a B. S. degree in physical education and social sciences.

WHS Lions To Wash Cars To Finance Football Camp

Boys of the WHS Lion football squad today were getting ready to get into the car washing business — not for themselves, but for the team.

Bob Shaw, the head coach and athletic director, suggested that the Lion gridders spend a week at a strictly football training camp (just like the pros and big high school and college teams often do) just before school opens here Sept. 7.

He submitted the proposal to a special summer meeting of the Boosters Club last month. The reaction was enthusiastically for it, but there was the all-important matter of money.

Shaw said that he had made preliminary arrangements with Otterbein College, his alma mater, and estimated that the week there for 35 boys, a couple of managers and three coaches would cost around $600.

Well, there was not $600 lying around loose, so Coach Shaw suggested that the boys, themselves, raise the money through their own efforts—a weekly car washing enterprise.

The boys said they wanted to make the week's trip to Otterbein and were ready and willing to wash cars for it.

The Boosters were asked for their moral support—which, of course, included taking their cars down to Gardner Park for the next four Saturdays to be washed.

Coach Shaw said about a dozen boys would be at the park from 9 A. M. until 5 P. M. to wash cars and that there would be others to provide delivery service.

Neither the car washing project nor the football camp idea is new or untried. Coach Shaw said it had been put into practice successfully at other places under just such circumstances as those here now.

Tickets for the car wash are being distributed among the Boosters by Perse Harlow, the club secretary; the objective is for the Boosters to sell them to car owners.

However, Harlow made it plain that a ticket is not necessary to get a car washed. "Just take it to the park," he said, "and the boys will do the rest."

For Boosters who want to get tickets to sell, they are available at the Economy Loan office of Don Gibson, the club president, or at Harlow's Business Service on North Main Street.

Football practice may start, under the rules of the Ohio High School Athletic Association, on Aug. 20. No date has been set for the camp—if the Lions raise the money — but Coach Shaw said he thought the week starting Aug. 30 would be a good one for the Lions would get back just in time to start to school on Sept. 7. Besides, they would have the benefit of 10 days of workouts before settling down to the serious business of a football camp, Coach Shaw explained.

Winners in Swim Meet Here On Holiday Are Announced

Part of the celebration of Independence Day here was staged Monday morning at the Washington Par swimming pool where a program of races and diving competition had been set up under the direction of Roger Hoffman, the manager, and Mrs. Robert Green, the swimming instructor.

There was a big crowd of spectators, many of them on Oakland Avenue between the Washington Park pool and the public park where a fishing contest was in progress and a program of supervised games carried out in the afternoon.

Ron Campbell was the top performer among the boys and Sandy Rose among the girls.

In the boys backstroke race the winner was Jack Penwell, second Jim Titus and third Gilbert Crouse. For the girls 10 to 11 years old, free style, the winner was Jo Ann Lightle and second Brenda Armstrong.

The high board contest was won

Reds Suffer Shutout In Cardinal Tilt

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals combined seven hits with three Cincinnati Red errors for a 6-0 shutout victory last night behind the pitching of Gerry Staley.

The Reds will attempt to get back the game from the sixth-place cards tonight, using left-hander Fred Baezowski against either Harvey Haddix or Brooks Lawrence.

Staley scattered nine hits, including two doubles and a single off the bat of Ted Kluszewski, for his fifth win in 12 decisions. He struck out two, walked none.

The loss stopped the Cincinnati win streak at four and dropped the squad 1½ games behind the fourth place Milwaukee Braves.

For hard-luck Harry Perkowski it was the seventh defeat against a solitary victory.

The Cards scored their runs in clusters of threes in the fourth and fifth innings.

Red Schoendienst started the trouble with a double to left. Stan Musial followed with a single and on a bobbie by Wally Post continued to second. Ray Jablonski singled to right. When Rip Repulski grounded to Bobby Adams, Musial was tagged out at home. Jablonski scored on a groundout. Kluszewski threw over Adams' head as Repulski was taking third and Rip by Ralph Sommers.

The medley race was won by Ron Campbell, second was Ralph Sommers and third Jack Penwell.

In the race for girls 5 years old and younger, Jane Roszmann was the winner and Shirley Haines was second.

In the race for 5 years old and under for boys, Paul Hoffman, George Steen was second and Bob Green was third.

For girls 6 and 7 years old, Linda Whiteside was the winner, second Susan Reno and third Marg Roszmann.

For boys 6 and 7, Mike Whiteside was the winner, James Morehouse was second and Ron Pope third.

For girls 8 and 9 years old, the winner was Jean Creamer, Jackie Pope was second and Melinda Korn third.

For boys 8 and 9, the winner was Eddie Highfield, Jerry Titus was second and Tom Roszmann was third.

The girls backstroke race was won by Sandy Rose with Jane Whiteside second.

Kirk Filly Wins Stake in New York

Natalie C. 3-year-old pacing filly owned and driven by McKinley Kirk, won the Blue Bird Restaurant stake in 2:04.2 at Vernon Downs, Utica, N. Y., Tuesday night.

Kirk took the daughter of Jimmy Creed away on top and stayed there the entire route to win easily over Ward Storm's Crescendo and Bill Bain's Oloson, which finished third.

The fast-stepping miss, who had finished second to her stablemate, Atomizer, last Thursday, paid $3.70, $2.70 and $2.40 across the board.

Olson Scheduled In Non-Title Go

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Carl (Bob) Olson, kingpin of the middleweights, stakes prestige but not his crown tonight in a scheduled non-television 10-round fight with willing Pedro Gonzales in Oakland Auditorium.

This will be Olson's tuneup bout before he defends his title in a 15-rounder with Rocky Castellani in San Francisco Aug. 20.

While Olson is a lopsided favorite he isn't taking his Rankin, Pa., opponent lightly. He says:

"You can't afford to let up on any of them."

3 Russian Envoys Given Boot By U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Russian diplomats have been thrown out of the United States during the last six months on charges of spying.

The Russian government, the State Department claims, has now retaliated by making espionage charges against two members of the U. S. diplomatic mission at Moscow and forcing their withdrawal.

The two Americans are military officers, as were the two Russians ousted from the embassy here.

The State Department declined to disclose any of the evidence against the Soviets, but Press officer Henry Suydam said, "We got the goods on them and out they went."

The incident which the State Department announced last yesterday, after months of silence on the ouster of the alleged Russian spies, had more than ordinary significance because of the policy situation which is developing among Russia and the Western Powers.

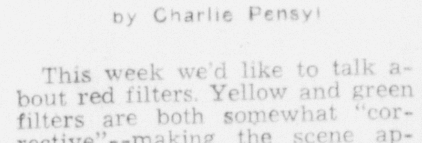

The Kremlin has been making a big play for British and French cooperation in an obvious effort to place heavy strains on the Western alliance. Every evidence of difficulty between Washington and Moscow coming at such a time carries the risk of widening Western differences by emphasizing differing relations with the Soviet Union.

Crack About Texas Nets Man Death

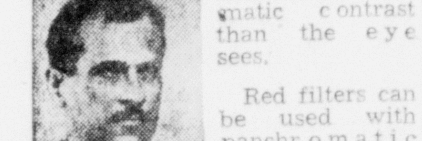

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Philip E. Ahlm, 49, movie stunt man shot a week ago during a Hollywood party after making derogatory remarks about Texas, died last night in general hospital.

The shooting took place during a party at the home of oil heiress Barbara Clamptt. Charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder was Ed Neely, 61, of Texas. He is the husband of the former Leah Clamptt, sister of the hostess.

After his arrest, he told officers the shooting occurred after Ahlm

This week we'd like to talk about red filters. Yellow and green filters are both somewhat "corrective"—making the scene appear much the same on film as when the eyes see it. The red filter, however, is a "contrast" filter. It reproduces a scene with more dramatic contrast than the eye sees.

Red filters can be used with you sharply contrasted film only. Their filter factor ranges from 5 to 8 times as much exposure as normal. The exact filter factor is noted on the instruction sheet you get with your filter.

With a red filter, all red colors come out very light. Green and blue reproduce almost black. A red rose on a green bush will come out as a pinkish-white flower against very dark leaves. . . much more sharply contrasted than without the filter. This red filter also gets tremendous punch into shots of a blue sky, which will print almost black with the white clouds standing out brilliantly. This effect is so pronounced that, if you don't use a red filter, you can use a blue sky with-out clouds and using a red filter, you'll get a night effect.

Red filters also cut aerial haze when photographing distant objects. You can even "see" objects with a red filter that will be obscured from your eyes by haze.

These are just a few reasons for adding a red filter to your equipment . . . and taking some experimental color shots with it. See us for your filters and, of course, your color film, too.

Plans for Fair Made by Lions

Programs for Races Club Project Again

The Washington C. H. Lions Club made plans for the sale of race programs during the 1954 Fayette County Fair, when it met Tuesday evening at the Country Club.

Dustin Gorton, first vice president, was in charge of the meeting during the absence of Wayne Bower, president, who is attending the Lions International convention in New York.

Dr. Marvin Roszmann introduced his guest for the evening, David Sloan.

Miss Kay Minshall, daughter of Robert Minshall, made her debut as pianist for the club and accompanied the members in singing a group of favorite songs.

Harry Thrailkill, chairman of the race program committee, announced the following chairmen who will head the sale of programs during the harness races to be held during the Fayette County Fair, July 28 to August 1:

Omar Schwartz, Wednesday chairman; Paul Rodenfels, Thursday chairman; Emerson Marting, Friday chairman and Ambrose Elliott, Saturday chairman.

Thrailkill announced that Richard Rankin will be finance director during the four days and Luke Musser and Tom Mark will have charge of expediting the race entries to the printers.

Nearly all the members of the club will sell the programs during the four days of racing. Money derived from this project will go into the Lions Club sight-saving fund and will be used to further this important work of the club.

Dr. Charles Pfersick, program director for the club meetings during the year, gave a brief report of what the club members can expect in the future.

Perfect attendance pins were presented by Norris Highfield, immediate past secretary, to the following: for ten years, Mac Dees, L. F. (Skeet) Everhart and Don Gibson.

Five-year perfect attendance awards went to Loren Hynes, Robert Minshall, Richard Rankin, Robert Sanderson, James Shoemaker, Harry Thrailkill and Frank Weade.

Truck Is Stolen From Fire Bakery

An Alkire Bakery delivery truck, with the name and address of the firm appearing in large letters on both sides of it, was stolen from the curb at 212 Sycamore Street, between 11 P. M. Tuesday and 5:30 A. M. Wednesday.

Loss of the truck was reported to the police, who sent out the usual broadcast.

No word had been received of the truck up to noon Wednesday, although in all probability the thief abandoned the truck in or near some nearby town.

Brother Survives George Cline Here

George Cline, 82, prominent land owner and retired farmer of Jasper Township who died Sunday morning, is survived by one brother, Fred Cline of Washington C. H., the closest of his surviving relatives.

Mrs. Cline preceded him in death, but he leaves an extensive family connection, including a number of nieces and nephews.

He was a native and lifelong resident of Fayette County and a member of Grace Methodist Church.

4-H Club Activities

JEFF WHIPPER SNIPPERS

After discussing their booth at the Fair for some time, the Jeff Whipper Snippers took the suggestion of their advisor, Mrs. Alfred Davis, and agreed that each member bring an idea for decorating it to the next meeting.

The club reporter said the members were proud to have had three junior leaders at the 4-H camp. They were Martha Christopherson, Karma Knox and Jean Coll. Other junior leaders in the club are Joan Little, Pauline Davis and Linda McClaskie.

This was the club's sixth meeting and it was held on blankets under the trees at the home of Linda McClaskie.

Pauline Davis, the president, conducted the meeting. Martha Christopherson led the 4-H pledge and the Lord's Prayer. Linda McClaskie gave the secretary's report.

Judging of projects for the Fair projects is to be held at the home of Joan Little on July 20, but the next regular meeting is to be held July 9 at the home of Martha Christopherson.

JUNIOR FASHIONETTES C

The Junior Fashionettes C spent nearly a whole day sewing on their dresses when they held an all-day meeting at the Bloomingburg School. Each girl brought a sack lunch.

Kay Heistand, the president, conducted the devotionals and led the group in repeating the pledges.

Ten members answered roll call with a health hint. Dorothy Fortier gave the secretary's report and Donna Mossbarger gave the treasurer's report.

Plans for a picnic and swimming party on July 8 were discussed.

CHAMPS

Demonstration and a talent program for the Fair were discussed by the 4-H Champs at their last meeting and plans were made to work on their record books at the next meeting, July 9 at the home of Paul Miller.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Feral Lewis. After adjournment, the Champs played games.

John Cook is the advisor.

WAYNE WONDER WORKERS

The Wayne Wonder Workers decided on decorating their Fair booth in an educational theme when they held their last meeting in the high school at Good Hope.

Seven answered the roll call for the meeting over which Jackie Hoppes, the president, presided. Reports were made by Secretary Margaret Johnson and Treasurer Peggy Riley.

During the business meeting the girls discussed two money-making enterprises—the sale of cook books and the sale of Christmas cards. Jackie Hoppes and Barbara Kneisey were named on the cook book sale committee.

Projects for the Fair are to be judged July 23 at Wayne Hall, along with those of the Busy Stitches.

Nancy Sollars and Margaret Johnson were the hostesses for the meeting. Mrs. Emerald Sollars is the advisor.

The next meeting is to be held July 12 at the school.

BUZZ'n DUZZ'n

The members who are to give the sewing demonstrations at the Fair were named when the Buzz'n Duzz'n club held its meeting at the home of Beverly Allen.

In the junior department, Kathy Allen is to give a single demonstration and Helen Louise and Ruth Ann Sheeley are to give the double demonstration.

4 Jacksonians Make Study Here

City Manager Form Of Government Aim

Four prominent Jackson men were in Washington C. H. Wednesday, inquiring into the city manager form of government, with a view to proposing Jackson adopt a similar system.

The men spent some time with City Manager James F. Parkinson and other officials, and went into the question thoroughly in order to obtain as much first hand information as possible.

The visitors were: John F. Stiffler, owner of the Stiffler Stores and member of the Jackson Citizens Committee; C. O. Morrow of the Sinclair Refining Co.; J. S. Morgan, retired iron and steel company executive, and L. M. Jones, active in various Jackson enterprises, including the Cambrian Packing Co. of that city, and member of the Citizens Committee.

However, the four men, who long have been prominent in the affairs of Jackson, came here on their own volition because of their interest in having the best possible form of government and business administration for Jackson's affairs.

It is understood that the visitors were very favorably impressed with the city manager form of government after they had completed their inquiries here.

are both junior and senior girls in the club, Carolyn Crago is to give the single demonstration and Natalie McLean and Joanna DeWees the double demonstration.

Carolyn Yoakum, the president, opened the meeting and led in the 4-H pledge. Reports were made by Joanna DeWees, the secretary, and Carolyn Crago, the treasurer.

Work was done on the project books and the girls were told to have them completed for the next meeting July 13 at the Sheeley home.

The rest of the meeting was spent in sewing on the projects.

HAPPY HOME MAKERS

The Happy Homemakers agreed that each girl would bring what she has for the Fair booth to the next meeting, when they held their meeting at the Olive School.

After the meeting, which was conducted by the president, Julie Pavey, was adjourned, the Homemakers worked on their project books.

Janet Knedler gave the treasurer's report and when the secretary called the roll each girl answered with her favorite song.

KUTE KUTTERS

The roll call was answered by 13 members when the Kute Kutters held their ninth meeting of the year at the home of Anna May, Ruth and Jeanne Coe.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Peggy Ford, and the 4-H pledge was led by Linda Moore.

A report on the 4-H camp was given by Donna Lovett, Linda Moore and Mary Kay Shipley and a bake sale was scheduled for July 31.

Four From Here To Attend Camp

Handicapped Young People Get Vacation

Four handicapped children from Fayette County will be among the 1,000 crippled or handicapped young people, financed by their home communities, who will go to summer camp for periods of two weeks in eight camps arranged by Societies for Crippled Children in this state.

Those from here are Sandra Carpenter, 9, and Michael Flax, 10, both of Jeffersonville, and Patty Williams, 19, and Patty Paul, 17, both of Washington C. H.

The first two will attend Camp Pittenger in Seneca County near McCutchenville, August 1 to 14; the latter two will enjoy the camping period from August 15 to 30.

The Fayette County Society for Crippled Children, the Lions Club of Jeffersonville, the Girl Scout Troop 2 of Jeffersonville, of which Mrs. Harold Klever is leader, and a few individuals who gave funds to the Crippled Children's earmarked for this specific purpose, have taken care of the finances for sending these young people to camp.

The program of activities at Camp Pittenger is to be as nearly as possible like that at regular camps and will include water sports, games, crafts, hikes, and the traditional evening council ring.

Julian G. Gardner of Napoleon, field secretary of the Ohio Society, and Miss Marguerite E. Whipple, physical therapist of Gorman School for Crippled Children of Dayton are co-directors of the Pittenger sessions. There will be 16 adult cabin counselors, both men and women, who are well qualified to direct camp activities.

For the care of children while at Camp Pittenger, two doctors and a dentist are immediately available. The children are examined when they arrive at by a registered nurse, who serves as camp nurse, and who has a background of school nursing and public health nursing. In addition, there will be the camp maintenance crew—ditchers and assistants, kitchen workers, laundry, and grounds crew.

These special camping periods give crippled children a chance for healthy fun, a chance to become self-sufficient. At camp the child learns new skills that give him satisfaction and self respect. Parents benefit too through temporary relief from care and responsibility.
